BOTH PARTIES HAVE REVOLTS TO WORRY THEM

WON'T EFFECT VOTE MUCH

Prohibition and Farm Relief Chief Causes for Disagreements

Washington—This is not a year of third parties—at least none is as yet visible to the naked eye—but it is a year of "revolts." Just what these revolts will amount to in popular votes is one thing and what they may mean in electoral votes is quite another.

Each party has its "revolts." To list them at this early date as influential or incidental is impossible because all the revolving factors have not yet developed. They are, however, important to chronicle and run about as follows:

1. All Democrats who cannot accept Governor Smith's views in favor of modification of the Volstead Act.
2. All Republicans who cannot accept the Hoover-Coolidge platform of farm relief and incline toward the Democratic plank.
3. All Republicans who feel that prohibition is a "issue, that the present situation is tolerable and that the Democratic program as announced by Governor Smith contains more hope of a change than does the Republican.
4. All Democrats who normally vote the traditional way but who follow the Hefflin idea of what would happen if a Catholic were elected.
5. All Republicans who feel that the issue of intolerance is more important to them than anything else, even the personality and capacity of the candidates themselves, and who would like to prove that a Catholic can be elected.

Some of these factors will be mere drifts. Factor number four may simply effect the electoral vote and hardly effect the popular vote. On the other hand the result in this instance depends on the extent to which the issue will be provoked and the Republican leaders are already urging their subordinates not to provoke Catholic Republicans on this point.

There is the complication that Senator Curtis, vice-presidential nominee on the Republican ticket, was baptized by a Catholic priest, though he later became affiliated with a Protestant church. Herbert Hoover was married by a Catholic priest, though neither he nor Mrs. Hoover is a Catholic, the incident occurring as the priest was the only person available who could perform a civil ceremony at the time Mr. Hoover was compelled to leave suddenly for the Orient.

REVOLT IS CERTAIN
So there is tolerance all around to eliminate the issue if the leaders can bring that about though both sides recognize that a certain amount of "revolting" will be done just the same.

As for the Southern drys who will refer it seems to be the consensus of opinion that this will not affect the electoral vote in the south, but may have an influence on northern drys, especially in western states and particularly if the southerners come north to engage in the campaign.

The "wet" inclination of the Democratic nominee is expected to be his chief assets in cities and in popular states. In New Jersey for instance, nearly every senator or governor elected since prohibition has been "wet" whether a Republican or Democrat. The Butler-Wadsworth wing of the Republican party has more or less the same views of prohibition that Governor Smith has. Out west there are Democratic drys who stand firm against any change in the Volstead Act. They represent a small number of the total votes of a state, but they might help offset such losses as the Hoover-Curtis ticket might have on farm relief. On clear cut wet and dry issues some of the western states have been rather close so that with the political personality and standpoint added there is really no way to which party can be expected to win in confounding the true effect of a transfer of votes.

FARM REVOLT SEEN
The biggest "revolt" in the west is anticipated on farm relief. The farm leaders are unquestionably pleased with the Democratic platform, but whether enough of them will bolt the party and say so openly is quite another matter. Then too the Hoover speech of acceptance has not yet been made and he has an opportunity to go further than the generalities of the Republican platform and announce a program of relief for agriculture that might altogether satisfy the extremists but may offend the regular Republican farmers a justification for staying Republican.

The "revolt" may amount to a good deal on the morning after election when the votes have been counted, but there is a present revolt which is not so apparent. With one "revolt" affecting the other.

Dozen Persons Injured In July 4 Accidents

CALIFORNIA COURT UPHOLDS SENTENCE OF PARKER SLAYER

San Francisco—(P)—The state supreme court Thursday upheld the conviction of William Edward Hickman, who kidnapped and murdered 12 year old Marian Parker in Los Angeles.

The decision upheld not only Hickman's conviction on the murder charge, but upheld the constitutionality of California's new insanity law under which Hickman was tried. It was principally on the asserted unconstitutionality of this law that the appeal was taken. Hickman is under sentence to hang.

Kansas City—(P)—The fight for the life of William Edward Hickman will be carried to the United States supreme court. Jerome Walsh, his attorney, said here Thursday following the decision of the California supreme court in sustaining his conviction of the murder of Marian Parker in Los Angeles.

250 Killed In Nation On Holiday

Chicago—(P)—The lives of 205 men, women and children were a nation's sacrifice to the celebration of its 132nd birthday anniversary Wednesday.

Fireworks claimed their share of victims, as they always have since the United States first began observing Independence Day with skyrockets, pin wheel and cannon crackers. There were 11 such deaths in the entire country, according to the Associated Press tabulation.

Lakes and rivers, however, exacted the heaviest tribute of human life during the holiday, 106 drownings being reported. Motorcar deaths ranked next in number with 54. Heat claimed 12 lives and lightning three, while four were killed in plane crashes. In addition there were 15 deaths attributed to other causes directly connected with America's observance of the Fourth.

Two densely populated areas—the middle Atlantic states and the mid-west—had more than half the country's total deaths for the day. In the former there were 58 fatalities, which was five more than occurred in the midwest.

The mountain states and the north-west had the best sectional records, with five deaths in each division. Everywhere through the midwest the temperature was high, contributing both to deaths by heat and by drowning. The midwest led the country in the number of drownings with 38, although the middle Atlantic area had only two less.

The airplane accidents were at Joliet, Ill., where a pilot and two passengers plunged to death when the wing of their plane snapped, and at Beaumont, Tex., where one was killed.

Three of the motorcar deaths came in races, drivers being killed in Oregon, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin. The number of persons injured many probably fatally, ran into the thousands. Premature explosion of a truckload of fireworks at Lamar, Mo., injured 25 persons as 5,000 gathered in the public square to witness the display. In the larger cities the hospital list of persons hurt during observance of the day ran into the hundreds. Chicago, with an ordinance prohibiting the sale of fireworks, echoed all day with firecracker explosions, and reports from police and hospitals that the number injured was probably greater than in previous years.

Zimmerman To Spend Day At Cedar Island Lodge

Superior—(P)—Striving to repay some of the hospitality of the state where he is vacationing, President Coolidge invited Governor Fred R. Zimmerman of Wisconsin to be his guest Thursday and Thursday night at the summer white house.

Instructions had been left by Mr. Coolidge for one of the white house cars to be sent to Superior to take the governor to Cedar Island lodge. Zimmerman had remained overnight in Superior where he had come to attend the Fourth of July celebrations.

Governor Zimmerman was among the hundreds who Wednesday conveyed their greetings to the chief executive on the occasion of his fifty-sixth birthday. Telegrams reached the white house by the score from all parts of the world, but Mr. Coolidge at the time paid little attention to them, preferring to pass his anniversary in the quietest manner of any year since he became chief executive.

President Coolidge, however, acknowledged his determination of having a special celebration on his birthday, and press photographers to the lodge. He shared his great birthday cake with them and took them along on a short ashore expedition.

In this way his guests saw him catch five fish in the course of about half an hour, and witnessed his triumph when he drew two of these on the same line.

President Coolidge led his guests up the river bank overlooking forest to the waters edge. He sat upright in the bow of his canoe with Bob Rio, his favorite collier, at his back, and John Larock, his Indian guide, paddling the shell from the stern.

CAL GOES FISHING
The surface of the lake was periodically studded with the splash of jumping trout. Larock led the chief executive under one of the banks where the rings appeared often and thicker. With quiet deliberate castings, Mr. Coolidge flung his flies as close as possible to the center of the disturbance.

Little luck came at first. Dressed in a red striped macinaw, khaki trousers and high laced boots, and wearing a western ten gallon hat, Mr. Coolidge began perspiring noticeably. Still he persevered.

His patience soon rewarded. While drawing to the boat his first catch, a second trout snapped at the black snail fly fastened to the line in addition to the royal coachman fly on which the first fish had been hooked.

With great jubilation Mr. Coolidge waved his two victims at his observers.

Three more catches followed in rapid succession. At each Mr. Coolidge gave the word to turn back. Mrs. Coolidge, dressed as usual in white, and her son John wearing a bright red sports coat, met the returning party. They marveled at the catch with exclamations of admiration. The fish were weighed and the largest proved to be a three and one-half pound rainbow trout.

For a remembrance of the occasion Mr. Coolidge was finally photographed with his guests about him. No other visitors came to Cedar Island lodge during the day.

RICH BELGIAN FALLS OUT OF PLANE IN SEA

Alfred Lowenstein Vanishes from Plane Carrying Him Across North Sea

London—(P)—Captain Alfred Lowenstein, world famous Belgian aviator and mystery man of Europe, fell from his private airplane while crossing the North Sea from England to Belgium Wednesday night and was drowned.

Traveling as he always did in a routine, Captain Lowenstein, slipped off from Croydon aerodrome in one of his planes, a Fokker, at 4 a. m., for Brussels with a British pilot at the controls. Two girl stenographers were aboard so that he could continue his business while in flight. The plane also carried his valet and a mechanic.

When the plane was crossing over the North Sea, Captain Lowenstein left his seat among his companions, and started for the washroom in the rear. He never returned. Apparently he opened a door by which passengers leave the plane and fell into the sea.

For a while those remaining aboard the plane were ignorant of what had happened and continued chatting. Sometime later they discovered the tragedy. The pilot headed at once for the French coast. He landed to the west of Dunkirk, France, on the beach at 8 p. m. The pilot explained to the customs officers there that he had decided to land on the French coast because of the accident.

In the meantime the Belgian staff was awaiting his arrival at Brussels. Finally as the hours passed and Captain Lowenstein failed to appear they began telephoning to police along the Belgian and French coast and learned of the tragedy.

Captain Lowenstein had been visiting in London.

Alfred Lowenstein, born in 1877, was reputed to be the richest man in Europe. His wealth being estimated at $10,000,000. He was married at St. Louis, Mo., to a daughter of a French nobleman. He owned a large estate in Belgium and a large one in France.

CHARGE KAUKAUNA BOYS WROTE THREAT LETTERS TO GIRL

Police Work 5 Months to Solve Mystery of "Poison Pen" Notes

Following almost five months investigations by Police Chief R. H. McCarty and Officer James McFadden at Kaukauna, two Kaukauna youths, Henry Henter and Raymond Fletch, are facing charges of libel and conspiracy in connection with the receipt of a number of threatening letters by Miss Irma Hoffman, Kaukauna, and other persons with whom she is acquainted.

The two boys were arraigned in municipal court before Judge Theodore Berg late Tuesday afternoon and their preliminary examination has been set for July 12. Both were released on bonds of $200 each.

Five months ago the investigation was started by Chief McCarty when the girl's father received a letter which threatened that a "gang" of eight men intended to "pick her up some night." Following the receipt of this letter other notes were received by people with whom Miss Hoffman was acquainted and all of the letters defamed her, it is said.

Police suspected Fletch and he was questioned after the receipt of a letter in May but was released. On June 23 another letter was sent and Fletch is said to have admitted sending, when cross examined by Chief McCarty and Officer McFadden, that he was the author of the letters.

Chief McCarty said Fletch implicated Henter. A signed confession in the hands of Chief McCarty from Fletch, the chief said Wednesday.

Threatening and libelous letters which were sent to either Miss Hoffman or persons and which are now in the hands of Chief McCarty, were received on Feb. 15, 18, 21 and 23; March 14, 15, 17, 22 and 27; May 17, and June 23.

All of the letters are written in either a threatening or slanderous vein, according to Chief McCarty.

It's All Over Now But They Had Lots Of Fun

It's all over now. The men who balanced themselves cautiously as they waved over the lurching deck which was main street have gulped their black coffee and are back on the job. The red, white and blue streamers are stripped from the autos, the thermos bottles are drying in the picnic kits, the split firecrackers which littered the sidewalks have been swept into the road and only a few scattered children bent earnestly over squibs bear witness that yesterday thousands of dollars went up in smoke, melted in soft and hard liquor and disappeared at pavilions and beaches.

Grass covers scarred battlefields of France; brilliant Christmas trees make tired shoppers forget their bunnions. To look at Appleton today you would never believe that during those two feverish buying days before the Fourth countless mothers, fathers and children searched, fought, bargained and bought like mad.

There were the little boys in overalls with the square label "pay day" on the intersection of the straps. May be they feel that Geneva conferences and disarmament treaties will soon rob them of their heritage. Anyway they bend themselves with grim ardor to buying synthetic battle thrills. The loudest flash crackers. Cannon balls. Thumbs down on sparklers. Na-ah for snakes. Hey, you got some torpedos? Aw, you got these for a nickel last year. Their hair sprawled on wet foreheads. One lifted a face ribbed with tear paths. "Ma's getting new furniture for the house. Last year I had five dollars worth." He took out a dollar bill from a knitted green pouch.

Two boys debated over three cents.

punk or sparklers. "How old are you?" asked the genial lady of their round, knee high sister. "How old is I?" asked the child poking her brothers in the hips. They were blind, deaf, numb to her in their fierce concentration. They might have been catatonics which is the scientific name for the men in the Oshkosh asylum who are punk so deeply in their own engrossing selves that they cannot be reached by the outside world. The boys passed the ice cream, the pop counter, the candy which might all have been sawdust, on their way out. Oddie, the sister, pulled at their back pockets as she pattered after them. "Where's my sucker?" Can men be bothered with suckers when there is noise to make? Oddie could watch them light the salutes.

The tall, thin man whose sunburn beat through swarthy stuffs pulled his little boy, laden with fireworks, out of the door. The little boy laughed easily. He stumbled over his feet. The clerk looked at him amusedly and father apologized. "Didn't dress him up. Just slung some pants on him and threw him in the car."

The bony, crack pained mother watched her children threateningly. The children were shaking with nervousness. Two bunches of crackers and one pin wheel or vice versa? "Roman candles?" asked the clerk. Mother's lips disappeared in an acid crack. She looked at her children and they looked at her. "No," said the children.

The little girl couldn't untie her money from the hard knot in her handkerchief. She had watched the neighbor's baby, mowed lawns and washed dishes for weeks for the key of that knot. Now in a voice that sounded as if she had been running, she asked for fireworks. Flash bang for toil! Fair exchange.

The workman giggled. It was an actual giggle. His blue eyes snapped in his red face under his white hair. "I've got the day off tomorrow. Don't have to be at work until five in the afternoon. I'm going to stay home all day. First day off in twenty years."

Peaches, who looked like a musical comedy baby, looked coolly at the fireworks. "Now are you SURE that is safe?" asked her parents. "Now WOXT Peaches enjoy this." Peaches draped one hand over the other on her hip like a "Butterick" lady model and stared languidly at the ladies who gurgled "Isn't she cut."

buying hats, not fireworks. They looked critically at the novelties the clerk brought before them. One picked up a repeater and cocked it. Her ability tickled her. "Have you got hamsters? Nigger chasers?" She said. "That will be all," when the big bag was half filled. She said it again when it was three quarters filled and when it was all filled.

They came in baby carriages, Fords and Packards. They came on roller skates, on crutches, on sore feet, with dance steps. They worked for the money for their fireworks and they worked buying them, and its all over now. But in between that time they had the exquisite fun of lighting fuses and having the fire streak into a flash of stars or noise. Sulphur smells, hot sun, hand. It's a subtle joy. And even as they grumble, the parents admit it.

BADGER W. C. T. U. LINES UP TO BATTLE AL SMITH

Madison (AP)—Plans for a concerted attack by the Woman's Christian Temperance union of Wisconsin upon the presidential aspirations of Gov. Alfred W. Smith of New York will be laid here Friday by a campaign committee of the state organization.

The entire membership of all unions in the state will cooperate, according to Mrs. Hannah L. Van Allen, Fond du Lac, a member of the campaign committee, not only in opposing Gov. Smith, but in fighting "wet" candidates for state office, regardless of party affiliation.

A plank will be presented by the women to the state democratic conference in Milwaukee on Saturday, asking that it pledge itself to the enforcement of state and national prohibition laws and to the selection of none but "dry" candidates.

Mrs. Van Allen emphasized the fact that their opposition to Gov. Smith is not of a partisan nature, but is based solely on his expressed opposition to prohibition; that the Union is composed of members of all political parties.

SCHNEIDER URGES USE OF BALLOT TO FIGHT FOES

More than 3,000 people heard Congressman George J. Schneider of Appleton in a Fourth of July address at Wabeno Wednesday. He talked on Independence Day, Its Significance to Present and Future Generations. The meeting was sponsored by the American legion of Wabeno.

The congressman pointed out the principals on which our government was laid and he urged the voters to protest against corruption in government as revealed by the recent oil scandal disclosures.

"We must use the ballot to combat the foes that are working in our midst because they are just as dangerous if not more so than the foes outside the country," Congressman Schneider declared.

Barbers Meeting
Appleton Barbers union will meet at 7:30 Monday evening at Trades and Labor Council hall. Regular business will be discussed.

Hold it in your mouth and gargle it for 20 seconds. If the mouth is acid, Semafor will change from red to white. Repeat the rinsing until Semafor stays red. That is proof (chemically positive) that the acid is destroyed, and your mouth sweet and clean.

If repeated rinsings do not come out red there is some deep-seated trouble on which you should seek advice from a dentist or a doctor.

Thus Semafor shows unclean or "acid mouth," decayed food between the teeth and other causes of unpleasant breath—and removes them.

Semafor is a development by Dr. Alfred Kropff, B.S., M.A., Ph.D. It is patented and can't be duplicated.

Its daily use is one of the best ways to whiten teeth, for Semafor aids greatly in removing yellow film.

Protect your investment in your MODEL T FORD

THE Ford Motor Company is making a new car, but it is still proud of the Model T. It wants every owner of one of these cars to run it as long as possible at a minimum of expense.

Because of this policy and because of the investment that millions of motorists have in Model T cars, the Ford Motor Company is devoting a large part of its factories to making parts, in order that owners may enjoy uninterrupted service for many years to come.

More than eight million Model T Fords are still in active service, and many of them can be driven for two, three and five years and even longer at small cost.

New fenders, for instance, cost from $3.50 to $5 each, with a labor charge of $1 to $2.50. Tuning up the motor and replacing commutator case, brush and vibrator points costs only $1, with a small charge for material. Brake shoes can be installed and emergency brakes equalized for a labor charge of only $1.25. A labor charge of $4 to $5 will cover the overhauling of the front axle, rebushing springs and spring perches, and straightening, aligning and adjusting wheels.

The labor charge for overhauling the average rear axle runs from $5.75 to $7. Grinding valves and cleaning carbon can be done for $3 to $4.

A set of four new pistons costs only $7 and an installation charge of $6. For a labor charge of $20 to $25 you can have your motor and transmission completely overhauled. Parts are extra.

All of these prices are approximate, of course, because the cost of materials needed will depend on the condition of each car. They show, however, the low cost of putting the Model T Ford in shape for thousands of miles of additional service.

See the nearest Ford dealer, therefore, and have him estimate on the cost of reconditioning your Model T Ford. He will tell you, in advance, exactly how much the complete job will cost.

BEST MENTORS NONE TOO GOOD FOR YOUNG PUPILS, CLUB TOLD

Dempsey Tells Kiwanians They Should Not Begrudge Cost of Education

Menasha—The formative period is the most important in a child's life, E. J. Dempsey, of Oshkosh, chairman of the Wisconsin Bar Association and for many years a member of the board of regents of the state normal schools, said in an address before the Menasha and Neenah Kiwanians Tuesday noon, and for that reason the highest priced teachers were none too good for a child passing through that stage of life. Instead of placing teachers with a limited training in the grades there would be less opportunity for them to do harmful work, he said. "A teacher with only a district school education, said Mr. Murphy, "can go to a normal school and in two years time can qualify for a certificate to teach. If your little son or daughter is taken in by such a teacher, you get but for the most competent regardless of expense. Teachers of limited qualifications are annually doing more harm to the younger children of the present generation than can be undone in the rest of their lives."

Notwithstanding Mr. Dempsey is engaged in the practice of law he has also been doing educational work all his life and has drawn his conclusions from actual experience. Coming down to a specific instance to which he wished to call attention.

Taxes are high and the largest item in the tax budget is money expended in Wisconsin education—$60 million dollars a year. The only thing comparable with it is the money spent on highways. The seventh item on our budget is the educational item.

City of Oshkosh has just completed an addition to its high school which cost more to construct than all the high school buildings in Fox River valley from Fond du Lac to Green Bay, he said.

PAU'S FORGED INTO CELLAR WEDNESDAY

Loss to Appleton Pushes Neenah-Menasha Team to Bottom of League

Menasha—Menasha-Neenah dropped into the last place in the Fox River valley league by losing to Appleton at Recreation park Wednesday afternoon by a score of 8 to 4. The locals scored four runs on four hits, five errors, four players being hit by pitched balls, and two free passes to first base.

Beach, local third sacker, found the offerings of Stoffel and Ritten to his liking and garnered three of Menasha's four hits in four official times at bat. The local's only real opportunity to tie the score in the seventh inning was reached first by being hit by a pitched ball, and Lewandowski singled, Powell walked, while Ritten was trying to locate the plate with the bases full and only one out. Weisberger popped up and Herzog, Menasha's home run slugger of former days, struck out.

Appleton collected ten hits including three doubles, all the safe blows being hung up while Powell was on the mound. Zenzefski hurled the last two innings. Menasha enjoyed a 2 to 1 lead until the first of the third, when Appleton shoved three runs across on four hits, two of which were doubles. Appleton scored another in the fourth on two clean drives, and two runs in the sixth on two walks and Murphy's hit to center.

The invader's last run went across in the seventh without the semblance of a hit, when an error and walk, coupled with an infield out sent the Menasha pitcher, behind the visitors down to three hits. Kryszak did the receiving for the home team. The second elimination game will probably be played next Saturday.

Joseph Garrow, shortstop of the Menasha team, injured his arm Wednesday while changing a car.

LEGION JUNIOR TEAM WINS FIRST GAME

Menasha—Menasha Legion Junior baseball team of which Carl Meier is manager, played its first elimination game with Oshkosh Wednesday and won by a score of 4 to 2. The game was played at Recreation park. Menasha pitcher, held the visitors down to three hits. Kryszak did the receiving for the home team. The second elimination game will probably be played next Saturday.

This is the only team remaining on the Print schedule for Thursday night. A win from the Prints will clinch the league honors.

LEGION DEDICATES MEMORIAL BUILDING

W. H. Nelson Turns Building Over to War Veterans for Dedictory Ceremony

Menasha—In turning over the new Memorial building to representatives of the American Legion for dedication, W. H. Nelson, chairman of the park board said:

"We have come together on this anniversary of Independence day for the express purpose of dedicating this building, the gift of the citizens of Menasha, for the use of this community, and in memory of those who, in the service of this country on land and sea and in the air, bartered their lives in exchange for our freedom of country, for federal unity, for continental liberty and for world peace. It is a honor indeed those men, who from the infancy of our national life have withstood all oppression and wrong, have fought for the integrity of our country, and have aided in the upbuilding of our citizenship, leadership in the world, and peace among nations."

"During the last 132 years the world has looked upon our seeming experimental form of government of democratic republicanism handed down to us by our forefathers and have seen it become the touchstone of leadership in the world of today."

"Americanism is one of the fine arts, the finest of the fine arts, the art of getting along peacefully with all sorts and conditions of men. We Americans have had more experience with the practice of this art than any of the other nations under the sun. A citizen of America is a miniature map of Europe, but by education, recreation, and industrial cooperation we have turned the old-world ill-spirit of scrapping, bargaining and quarreling into the new-world good-spirit where partnership, association and intermarriage have not only been made possible but mutually advantageous."

"Through the travails of a century and a half we have found that the American people, regardless of racial diversity, can say with whole hearted sincerity, United we stand."

"I therefore, as chairman of the park board of the city of Menasha, formally turn over to you, representatives of the American Legion, this building for dedication, with the sincere hope that it shall be a unit in our community life which shall promote and develop that fair spirit of sportsmanship, leadership and Americanism for which you, and the soldiers of all our wars, have so faithfully fought for and maintained."

Ruffle Collars, Flaring Skirts Make Slim Waists

BY BETTY SCHUYLER

New York—Smart, conservative women's ideas are getting broader all the time—when it came to the shoulder treatment for their costumes, that is.

It occurred to me last week, noting the very broad-shouldered effect of one georgette frock with a double bertha, that this was one way of achieving a very slender waist appearance. Maybe we are all working back to the mid-Victorian effect, where the feminine waist looked as if it could be spanned by a couple of hands, whether it could or not.

Capes, berths, ruffled collars and drop yokes and all kinds of wide furs are in use on summer things. Quite a divergence, really, from those sleek, padded-in and moulded skinner lines of last season.

SLENDERIZING EFFECT
Of course some of the fair debs just can't look broad-shouldered. Take June Hess. I saw her lunching at Pierre's, looking lithe and slender in a printed frock of tiny white and pink flowers on a dark brown background. But the pleated collar that rippled over her shoulders did tend to broaden them. The skirt had five little pleated ruffles to flare the rock out, and heighten the effect of the slender waistline.

There's a Vogue in vivid sports coats right now that is pleasingly stimulating. Mrs. George U. Harris has a homespun coat of blazing yellow and red figures on a cream background. Badger collars it. The sleeves flare to a very wide cuff. It is three-quarter length and looks tremendously smart topped by a small orange straw turban.

I have called attention to the feminine grace of white silk pique before. But to fully appreciate it, one should see Alice Kenney's tunic overblouse of it with a pleated ruffle finishing the V neck and a double ruffle flaring below the natural waistline. She wears it with a navy blue tulle skirt with three-quarter coat collar in soft grey summer fur.

Kerchief jewelry is new and quite in keeping with this summer that subdues the nonchalance of last season's sport things. Mrs. A. P. Messmore wore a little silver yacht placed amidships below the knot of the polka-dotted kerchief she wore with a collar to a light blue cardigan suit of flannel.

The use of the bowknot, or "love-knot," as some just must call it, is running riot in all kinds of accessories and decoration. Bernice Chrysler has one worked out in dark brown on the tan upper to a three piece brown ensemble. With it she wears gold lozenges for bracelets and as a tiny ornament for a stunning brown pica straw hat with medium brim.

Brown progresses in smartness until I would wager the smartest of women each will have at least one formal brown gown for next winter. Genevieve Fox was the epitome of all elegance in the Ritz roof recently, dancing in a beautiful and most unusual gown of cinnamon brown tulle, with each tier finished in cream lace, with a moulded bodice finished with a square neck of lace.

BLACK, WHITE AND RED
The flair for red this season is a welcome thing. Mrs. R. G. Wilson topped a black-white chiffon ensemble at a garden party recently with a red hat of floppy straw and wore red sandals with parchment hosiery.

White linen collars and cuffs and even separate vests of fine hand-worked linens are quite the vogue—making me wonder again if we are not en route to days of elaborate details of dressing reminiscent of the mid-Victorian days. Mrs. Sidney Whalen has a lovely set of collars and cuffs of hand worked linen on a medium blue sports suit. Mrs. S. Bryce Wing is another woman with chic who knows just how effective and feminine lingerie touches are to tailored costumes.

SHE HAS 98 GRANDCHILDREN
Mrs. Sarah Bromley, who recently celebrated her ninety-second birthday at Horsmonden, England, was married at 16, and has now 98 grandchildren and 77 great-grandchildren. Twelve of her 14 children are alive, the eldest being 72 and the youngest daughter 50.

Caught on an angler's hook at Hutton Rudby, England, a vren apparently was unhurt as it flew away after being hooked.

When Mrs. Walcock fell into the Thames at Halford, England, recently, she was pluckily saved by the mother, Mrs. Updeil.

The Prince of Wales has consented to become a patron of the "B. B. B. B." movement for emigrating boys from England to Australia.

CHILD'S FUTURE RESTS ON HOME

Minneapolis (AP)—Upon the environment of the home—a home in which love and intelligence exist—depends much of the future of a child, in the view of Belle Farley Murray, home science instructor of Saginaw, Mich.

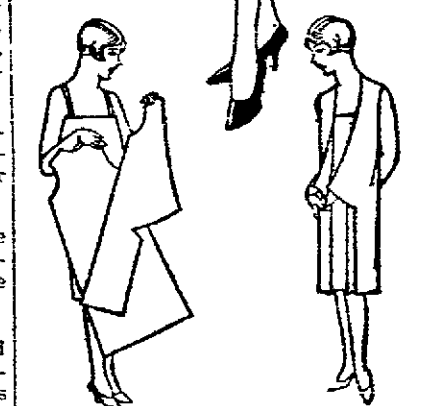

"Without that first right, a home in which love reigns," she told the National Education association to-day, "he may become an emotionally unstable individual, a very frequent result where family friction is the child's daily lot. If he is an unwelcome addition to the family, he possibly will grow into a weak member of society, lacking in self-confidence and believing the worst of himself as he has always heard it. Other products of this environment continually expect to be treated unfairly and meet life always antagonistic and suspicious."

The small human being who is fortunate to receive not only loving but also intelligent care, she said, has a priceless home influence, with prospects of a healthy body, together with wise advice, examples of right living and sound discipline which will help to make him an adult strong in self-control and able to develop his own personality.

Training School Takes Place Of Reformatory

Albion, N. Y. (AP)—Providing pessimistic stories with happy endings as the function of a school here that is considered a model in reforming human lives.

To the Albion State Training school come girls who are better than a world that they have found cruel and sordid.

"Most of them had a pretty raw deal in life; few of them have ever known kindness or consideration from anyone," says Mrs. Flora P. Daniels, superintendent of the school for a dozen years. "Here they find that we are eager to help them and that we treat them as fellow human beings. No one can keep on feeling bitter when she finds only kindness surrounding her."

The institution with its 92 acres of fertile farm land, broad campus and stately trees and homelike brick buildings was called a reformatory before the name was changed to "training school." Mrs. Daniels felt that one name might breed humiliation, the other self respect. The state legislature agreed with her.

BY RUTH DEWEY GROVES

Dear Mom:

Cousin Julia has just departed and it was with a feeling of regret that I waved farewell to her. She moved to get me out of an unpleasant situation very neatly, and I have an idea that I'll need her again soon. Alan and I have been getting along too well. There is something ominous in our felicity.

The fashion show ended Saturday night too—ended in a blaze of glory and a dinner dance at the country club that would not have to take a back seat for any Bohemian revel I have ever attended.

And the belles of the occasion were not what you called the "best people" of the conservative ranks, but two chorus girls from the most popular musical comedy here. They simply moved down all before them.

Toward morning, I won a place in the spotlight, doing my black bottom dance. I think I did all wrong for me. I ought to go in seriously for anything, for it is the only way where I have ever made first base.

And right here and now, I may as well confide to you, mother dear, that I am going to get a job of some sort. I don't care so much what it is, just so it gives me something to do that amuses me and keeps me out of mischief.

It's perfectly silly to think that a little apartment such as we have with a good maid, requires any attention from me. It doesn't. And I can't bear to stay at home alone. Also, I hate the things women do to amuse themselves during the day. I get so sick of bridge, lunches and parties where there are just women. After a week of women's society, I find in the mood I was when I flitted with Fede—just desperate for a little honest excitement. And of course that inevitably brings trouble into the home.

There's absolutely no reason why I shouldn't have something to do as well as Alan. If he had only me as an interest, he would have been pleased in a padded cell long before this. I don't have to care whether it pays well or not, or whether it is vitally important. And I can walk out on anything I don't like—and I will.

Until I have something in mind, I shall not disturb Alan's peace of mind. You will be kept advised—and I hope you will sympathize with my plan. Doubtless, I shall need your moral support when we really have the show-down.

Lots of love, MAYE

Cream butter and gradually beat in sugar which has been sifted twice. Sift flour three or four times and add 1-2 cup to creamed butter and sugar. Mix and sift remaining flour, salt and baking powder and all thoroughly with milk to first mixture. Beat well as every ingredient is added. Bake 25 minutes in a moderate oven. Fill and cover with a boiled icing.

When baking in warm weather, and when cake batter has to stand for several minutes as in this recipe, the latter is placed in the ice box to keep it cool. A reason for the baking powder is not needed for the cake.

JACKET FROCK

Mrs. Averill Harriman

A beautiful example of the kind of lady-costume a jacket frock can be worn by Mrs. Averill Harriman. Hand-work threaded a delicate but very effective fine pattern of scrolls in rich browns on a fine tan background. The pleated skirt had a tan border, as did the blouse and the jacket too. Her brown hat had only a tiny bunch of brown, tan and orange flowers on it for trimming.

A Delicious New Jam You Can Make from STRAWBERRIES and PINEAPPLE in 15 minutes

This recipe for Mixed Pineapple and Strawberry Jam is very popular. No finer blend of flavors can be imagined than that of the delicately luscious strawberry with the refreshing tartness of ripe, juicy pineapple. Many women like this recipe, too, for its economy, since the pineapple makes your strawberries go so much further.

Crush to a fine pulp about 1 quart ripe berries. Put pineapple (fresh or canned) through food chopper, or chop very fine. Measure 2 level cups of each fruit into large kettle. In case of slight shortage of one fruit, use enough of the other fruit to make 4 cups total. Add 7 level cups (3 lbs.) sugar and mix well. Use hottest fire and stir constantly before and while boiling. Bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard for 1 minute. Remove from fire and stir in 1/2 cup Certo. Skim, pour quickly, and cover hot jam at once with hot paraffin wax.

Certo is the natural jellifying substance extracted from fruit, refined and bottled so that you may use it with all fruits to get a quick, perfect "set" without long boiling.

With the delicately flavored pineapple and strawberry the advantages of the Certo method are especially noticeable. For Certo not only makes these difficult fruits jell perfectly every time, but the short boil, possible only with Certo, prevents the loss of fresh flavor and color which occurs during long boiling.

"Certo way the best way" says eminent cooking expert.

Miss Alice Bradley, Principal, Miss Farmer's School of Cookery and Cooking Editor, Woman's Home Companion, says—"One trial will convince you that the best way to make jams and jellies is The Certo Way."

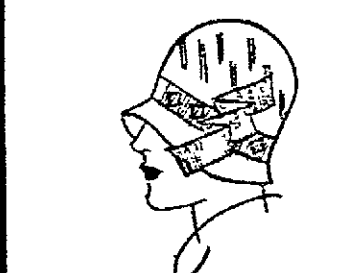

Your grocer has Certo. A book of simple, tested recipes comes under the label of each bottle.

Truth Should Be Basis Of Child Training Today

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

PROBABLY nothing is more characteristic of the courage and intelligence of American parents than the efforts they are making to enlighten themselves on the subject of child training.

Not only do they consider the mental and moral upbringing of their children nowadays as important as physical welfare, but they have come to realize that the old way of preparing a child for a sheltered life in a sheltered world is of no more use nowadays than an umbrella in a typhoon.

Parents are apt to blame themselves, and other people have been quick to criticize them, for a lack of discipline that has resulted in what we call "the terrible younger generation."

I believe that parents are entitled to sympathy instead of censure in these rather chaotic times. All transition stages from the old to the new are chaotic. Forewarned is forearmed, and how were parents to know that times were going to change practically overnight? For times did change suddenly, with the advent of quick travel and instantaneous thought—a renaissance more tremendous and far-reaching than that which occurred in Europe in the fifteenth century. Events that took 50 years to happen then are history now in a week.

But not only tempo of the times has quickened; it takes no astrologer to tell us that the new era is not only one of material and physical changes, but that the greatest change of all has been in thought at attitude toward world-old institutions.

This new freedom suddenly let loose upon the world has, for one generation at least, been dangerously near its undoing. Trained for the cloistered shelter of a more or less artificial life, young people suddenly found the walls down.

Some have lost their heads and paid dearly in the school of experience. But these very children will make the best parents in the end, because they will know what their children are up against. They will give them a better defense than the old-fashioned precepts handed down from a placid past.

Children today are facing a rather unromantic, matter-of-fact, but more honest age. Things are being dragged out into the open, and indeed it is the children themselves, largely, who are doing it.

Greater than ever will be their need for straight, clear thinking, unbiased by prejudice, and unworried by complexes of mind and character. The child of the future must be free from the hindrance and unhappiness of inhibitions. He must be free from his own bigotry.

He must be able to select the right values of living and conduct and base his standards on what believes to be right, rather than upon what people will think or say, or upon unreasonable custom. With the world wide open, he must be his own defense. He will have no use for the eleventh commandment, "Thou must not be found out."

Truth and frankness! That should be the basis of all child training. But we must go back further than that. It won't do to wait until a child is 10, or even 6, and then say, "We now must begin to thing of John's character."

Child training begins at birth, or as soon as instinct develops into mental initiative and sense reaction. And strangely enough it does not begin with habit training, although habit training is considered the first step in character training. It begins with health.

NEXT: Mrs. Barton discusses the importance of health in character training.

READ THE STORY. THEN COLOR THE PICTURE

THE Times thanked the hunters. "Hello there, monkeys! Come on down, and they all rushed up to shake hands. The monkeys squeaked and looked you to free us from that cage," said one. "We fell asleep in it last night, to the ground, and then they dropped down one. The monkeys then came up all up, and several of them gathered at his side, and took us for a bumpy ride, which isn't any fun."

The hunter laughed. "Well, monkeys," said he, "are full of tricks as they can be. I started on a hunting trip, and left my cage behind. I planned to travel about a mile and then come back here, after while, and look up any animals that I might chance to find.

"A monkey watches things you do and then they try to do them too. They've seen me go into the cage and then come out again. That's why they locked you up! 'Twas slick, and they quote a clever trick. I'm very fond of monkeys, though they're pesky, now and then."

BURIAL RITES HELD FOR MARSHALL KEITH

Pioneer Resident Interred in New London Floral Hill Plot

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—The burial of Marshall D. Keith, former resident of this city who died at his home at Cranston Tuesday morning following a prolonged illness, took place in the New London Floral Hill cemetery in charge of a Cranston minister Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The funeral services were held from the home at Cranston. Mr. Keith suffered a series of paralytic strokes about three years ago from which he never fully recovered. A large number of Cranston people accompanied the body.

Marshall Dinsmore Keith was one of the pioneer residents of this city and was prominent in promoting the early business activities of this community. He came to this city about 1874 at the age of 21 years, entering the employment of the H. E. Pace Dry Goods store, which was conducted at the corner of S. Pearl and Spring streets. Later Mr. Keith was married to Miss Nellie Pace, daughter of his employer, and at that time became a partner in the dry goods store.

Not long after Mr. and Mrs. Keith moved to Marion where Keith conducted a mercantile store for a short time. The family returned to this city and Mr. Keith established the bee hive factory where now the Roemer Lumber Co. is now located. Mr. Keith held the office of president of the First National bank and was also influential in other business enterprises in this city. The Keith family moved to Cranston about the year 1890 where they have since resided and where Keith established and actively operated the Keith Lumber Co. A few years ago the mill was wiped out by fire and was never rebuilt. He was owner of large Wisconsin timber tracts and had considerable stock in the Wisconsin and Northern railroad.

Survivors are his widow and one son, Harry, of Cranston.

NEW LONDON STORM
LIFTS GARAGE ROOF

Car Headlights Used to Illuminate Condensed Milk Plant

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—The heavy electric storm which swept this community on Tuesday evening and which caused the city to be in complete darkness for more than an hour, played many strange tricks, one of which was the lifting of the garage roof at the residence of Frank Guyette, Cemetery laying the outer walls flat without breaking a single pane of glass in the building. The garage will have to be completely reconstructed.

Trees all about the town were broken and in many cases branches were thrown across the roadways, making traffic in the unlighted streets hazardous. Work at the Borden condenser continued late because the day's run of more than 300,000 pounds of milk was held up for lack of light. The only light available was provided by employees' cars which were turned toward the building. The company's own lighting plant was temporarily out of commission.

With all the rain and high wind there has been but little damage to crops. Delayed crops are flourishing under the heart of the last few days and the much needed rains. Gardens and fields are in much better condition than a week ago, and strawberries, though a scant crop, are of fine quality.

Morning services were held at 10 o'clock at which the Rev. H. Daib, president of the North Wisconsin district of the Missouri Synod preached the sermon. At noon the ladies of the congregation served a dinner in the basement of the church.

A second service was held in the afternoon at 2:30 at which the Rev. A. Potratz of Belle Plain preached. Both the morning and afternoon services were in the English language. Printed programs with hymns were distributed.

The history of the Grace Evangelical Lutheran congregation dates back to 1896 when the Rev. D. Jaeger began to preach at Bear Creek. In 1924 the congregation was permanently organized and joined the Missouri Synod. During this time services were held at the Methodist church.

Last fall a church building was purchased by the Ladies Aid of the congregation. Fred Reinke donated the site where the present building is located. Here a concrete basement was constructed. On Dec. 27, 1927, Frank Schoenheide moved the church building purchased by the Ladies Aid from the town of Deer Creek to its present site. A loan was procured from the church building fund of the synod to aid in their venture and various repairs and improvements were made.

BIRTH AND BRAINS STUDIED BY SCIENCE

Massachusetts Department of Mental Diseases Making
Extensive Researches

Boston.—(AP)—The order of birth of the retarded or mentally defective child is apparently of little significance, according to findings announced by Dr. Neil A. Dayton of the Massachusetts department of mental diseases.

His survey has included 110,455 retarded children in the public schools of Massachusetts to test theories on order of birth and size of families. It has shown that families with a mentally defective child tend to be larger than families having a retarded child. Both groups are slightly larger than families in the general opinion. The observation also was made that completed families with a retarded or mentally defective child are having approximately three times as many children as completed families with a gifted child.

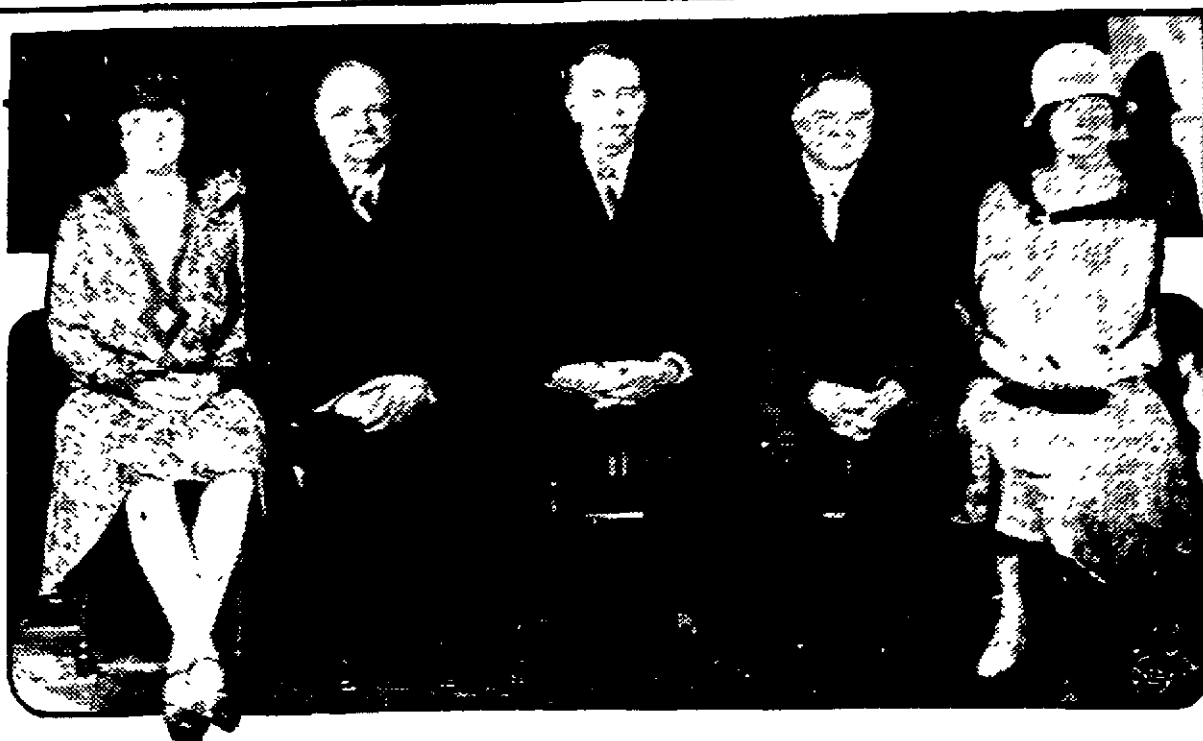

There are now 15 traveling clinics operating under the department of mental diseases that visit public schools and examine all children who are backward in their classes. The survey, Dr. Dayton announced, is being used to test these theories; that the mentally defective child tends to be the first born of the family, thereby inferring that mental deficiency is a result of birth trauma; that the mentally defective child tends to be the last born of the family, thereby inferring that mental deficiency is a result of exhaustion process; and that the mentally defective child tends to have large families. The theories concerning order of birth, at least, have not been borne out by facts determined to date.

NATURE OBEYS LAW OF SUPPLY AND DEMAND

Yellowstone Park, Wyo.—(AP)—Nature's adherence to the law of supply and demand is emphasized this year by the great increase of chipmunks in the Grand canyon, which had a bumper crop of pinon nuts last fall.

Pinon nuts make up a large part of this animal's diet. Many nuts are still on the ground so the chipmunks have no difficulty satisfying themselves, and several may be seen scurrying about where only one might have been observed had the crop been less bountiful.

This increase in chipmunk population can hardly endure, however, since the decline in supply of nuts will soon bring about keen competition for the food and the number of rodents will diminish.

Hi Colwell will play at 5 Cors., Fri. Eve., July 6th.

RAILROAD EQUIPMENT IN GOOD CONDITION

Chicago and Northwestern railroad freight yards, passenger and freight stations, stock yards, and other line equipment between Green Bay and Fond du Lac were found in good condition, by the inspection committee, and repairs will be necessary, according to W. B. Basing, local agent, Mr. Basing and W. W. Fradenburgh, yard master, were among the 40 agents and yardmasters from Green Bay, Appleton, Kaukauna, Neenah, Menasha, Oshkosh, Fond du Lac, Wisconsin Rapids, Sheboygan and Manitowish, who left Green Bay Tuesday morning in a special coach attached to a way freight train for the inspection tour.

In connection with the tour they discussed general traffic problems, and considered suggestions for improvements.

PAYS $25 BECAUSE HIS WIRING WASN'T UP TO STANDARD

Glen Blink, 26, Nichols, was fined $25 and costs by Judge Berg in municipal court Thursday morning when he pleaded guilty of wiring a house in a manner that did not comply with city regulations. Blink was accused of having done the work on Feb. 22 and 23 and a warrant was issued for his arrest at that time. He was not located, however, until Wednesday, when Sergeant Mathew McGinniss and Officer Gus Hersekorn went to Nichols where they arrested him. The complaint was made by Louis Luebbe, city electrician.

DRIED BUTTERMILK PRICE WITHIN FARMER'S REACH

Madison.—(AP)—The present price of dried buttermilk—6½ to 7 cents—puts it more in line with its feeding value than it has ever been before, in the opinion of the feed and fertilizer inspection division of the state department of agriculture.

The present price is a reduction from earlier quotations of the year. It should make dried buttermilk a little more popular as an ingredient in home mixtures, the department says. "Commercial chicken feeds containing this ingredient will probably be lowered slightly in price; otherwise a larger percentage of buttermilk will be used in the formulas.

WISCONSIN WEATHER
Mostly fair tonight, becoming unsettled, probably followed by showers; slightly warmer Friday.

GENERAL WEATHER
The pressure is now relatively high from the lake region southward to the gulf, with mostly fair weather over the country. Thunderstorms have fallen during the past 24 hours over the southern lake region and adjacent territory, however. The pressure is lower over the western plains and Canadian northwest and some showers are reported along the international border. High temperatures were recorded yesterday over almost the entire country except the northern lake region. In dictations for this section tonight and Friday are for an increase of cloudiness by Friday, probably with scattered thundershowers Friday, with temperatures near or above the seasonal normal as the western "low" develops and moves eastward.

Business On Sunday Mornings The Year 'Round

SOME of our patrons can recall these old days, but the present generation is ignorant of the existence of such long working hours in retail stores in our city.

Working conditions have remedied themselves throughout the lapse of years to this advancement—

Organized labor has progressed to the extent that the ten hour work day is a thing of the past and the great majority of the trades cease their labor at noon Saturdays.

THE progressive stores of Appleton advocating Friday nite opening and Saturday nite closing, have in mind the welfare and contentment of their employees believing that the Friday night opening leaves the sales people in a refreshed condition, mentally and physically to start out their week's work Monday morning.

Our employees finish their week's work at six o'clock on Saturday nite—leaving them free to carry out whatever plans they have made for their pleasure and enjoyment over the weekend and bringing them back on Monday morning rested and contented and in a happier frame of mind.

BY LUTHER DEWEY GROVES

THIS HAS HAPPENED

NATHANIEL DANN, struggling artist, is engaged to VIRGINIA BREWSTER, whose father is a prominent Wall Street financier. After losing his fortune in speculation BREWSTER dies of heart failure and leaves his daughter penniless.

NIEL urges VIRGINIA to marry him at once, but an old family friend, FREDERICK DEAN, and his daughter CLARISSA persuade her to make her temporary home with them.

NIEL is angry when VIRGINIA tells him her decision, for he suspects DEAN's motives and does not like the shallow CLARISSA, who has just announced her engagement to RUSSELL WAIN-GOULD. He takes VIRGINIA to her new home and returns unhappily to his neglected studio, where he finds his model, CHIRI, waiting with hot coffee for him. He knows that CHIRI is jealous of VIRGINIA and fearing that she will become a nuisance he repulses her and she leaves in a temper.

Meanwhile, VIRGINIA is puzzled by a talk with CLARISSA in which the latter intimates that she will tolerate no trespassing where RUSSELL'S money and affection are concerned and says: "Your grief has not clouded your good judgment as a Modern."

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER VII
"Come in," Virginia called. She expected to see one of the servants enter. Instead, it was her host who opened the door and stepped inside.

"Aren't you coming down to lunch?" he asked pleasantly.
"No if you don't mind," Virginia answered wearily.

"Poor child; you're exhausted. Well, do as you like, of course, but I hope you will be able to join us at dinner. Perhaps it would benefit you to go for a drive this afternoon. Shall I order a car?"

Virginia glanced out the window at the clear blue sky with lazy, white clouds drifting over it like sheep in a meadow. She had a sudden feeling of oppression as though the charmingly furnished room in which she stood were about to contract upon her, to smother her.

"Yes, please do," she cried with unexpected fervor; "it will be glorious to get outdoors."
"At three, then?" Mr. Dean asked. He appeared surprised at her eagerness.

"Oh, sooner," Virginia urged; then conscious that her manner was strange, added in explanation, "I'm sure I'll be able to think better outdoors."

Dean frowned. "You aren't worrying about your future, I hope. That isn't necessary, my dear."

"I don't know exactly what I'm worrying about," Virginia exclaimed, her voice resting on a note of hysteria. "You mustn't let yourself go to pieces," he warned her. "You know you can count on me to help you in any way I can."

"It isn't anything I can talk about," Virginia told him.

He came over and took her hands in his. "The car will be ready whenever you want it," he said gently. "And now may I send up some lunch to you?"

Virginia nodded.
But when the lunch arrived she let it untouched. Her windows gave on Fifth Avenue and she sat, hatted, watching for the car to arrive.

After what seemed to Virginia a long time Mr. Dean's dark blue limousine drove smartly up to the curb. She ran from the room and down the stairs, pulling on her gloves at the same time.

She was crossing the hall when Dean appeared in the door of the dining room and spoke to her.

"Would you wait just a moment?" he said. "I'd like to go with you."

There was nothing for Virginia to do but accept his company unless she chose to be ungracious. She felt a sickening disappointment, however, for she had looked forward to being alone on the drive. For some reason it had seemed to her that she could not get away from Dean's influence and the reaction to Clarissa's veiled remarks while she remained in their house.

Dean joined her a moment later and took her arm to assist her down the outer stairs. To Virginia the assistance was unnecessary, but she made no audible protest, knowing that the action was perfectly natural. Only as she went, she couldn't help recalling what Nathaniel had said about Dean's touching her. She felt that she was being slightly disloyal to her absent sweetheart when her companion let his hand remain at her elbow while they crossed the sidewalk.

And once seated in the car, the feeling grew as Dean sat close beside her, even edging over as she moved nearer her corner. Virginia took herself to task as being foolish to mind it but the impression of undue warmth in "Uncle Frederick's" manner became deeper as they roared smoothly along Riverside Drive and up towards Yorkers. Virginia tried to assure herself that it was merely evidence of his sympathy for her, but Nathaniel's words had awakened a new consciousness of the man beside her. He had become suddenly a person who was entirely disassociated from her past ideas of him as the father of her dearest friend.

But when he reached for her hand she drew it away as casually as she could but nonetheless effectually. He frowned quickly. Had Virginia been observing his face she might have wondered that he showed so much displeasure over so small a matter.

"You know, Virginia," he said, and somehow managed to speak agreeably, "I'm sure I could help you solve your problems if only you would trust me."

"Why, it isn't a matter of not trusting you, Uncle Frederick. I know what you think about Nathaniel and myself and, well, I'm wondering if you aren't wrong—if I shouldn't let him take care of me as he wants to do."

"I was afraid you might lose your courage, my dear. Naturally you would want to let him do that but you're very much in love with him, aren't you?"

Virginia smiled. "He has taught me the meaning of the word," she said simply.

"Then you must know better than to let him wreck his life," Mr. Dean replied with a seriousness of expression that carried a touch of conviction to Virginia.

"But would it? I could help him, I'm sure of that."

"Virginia, please let me save you from the greatest tragedy of life. I mean the failure to profit by the experience of others who have lived before you, meeting the same problem, facing the same obstacles. It is a great pity, but wisdom seems always to come when it is too late to be of service to us in making our decisions. You are standing on the threshold of a new life. You will make or mar it by whichever voice you heed now—that of sound advice offered you or the impulse of your own heart."

"You—frighten me," Virginia shivered slightly. "You make happiness seem so remote."

"No, if you will but see it, happiness is yours for the asking. Be true to what you know is for your own and young Dean's best good and you can't fail to be happy. Don't be weak, Virginia. Don't let yourself be swept off your feet just because you are in love."

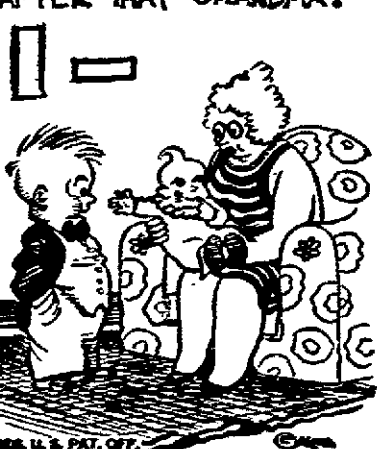

"Perhaps you are right," she admitted hopelessly; "but I wish I felt as sure of it as you do."

"You will soon, I know. Now, won't you tell me—is there any way in which I can help you materially? I will be doing me a great kindness if you allow yourself to go in need of anything I can provide for you, my dear."

"Thank you," Virginia said, "there's nothing." She was genuinely sorry that her voice carried so little warmth of gratitude but she could not help it. There was about his generous sounding offer some tinge of patronage—perhaps the only imagined one—that left her cold.

"There is something you can tell me, though," she added a moment later. "And please don't think that I have anything to complain about, but I just would like to know if Clarissa was perfectly willing to have me come and live with you."

"I rather thought she would you in some way, Virginia, but you know Clarissa is an outspoken person. Of course, I don't know what she had to be outspoken about to you, but at least I can allay any doubts you may have concerning your welcome with us. We both are overjoyed to have you. Clarissa was the first to urge the arrangement, although I had it in mind before she mentioned it to me."

"I may have imagined something she didn't mean," Virginia confessed

STOMACH ULCERS

"After suffering for more than 15 years with this painful serious trouble, with everything recommended a failure, the last advice being an operation with no assurance even then of permanent relief, I finally found a new idea of treatment that cured me in 60 days with no restrictions in diet. I am so grateful for my relief that I want to help others by saying that your wonderful treatment should be in the hands of every person suffering from ulcers or a super-acid stomach." (Name on request.) Will gladly explain this treatment. George Von, 716 Baker Bldg., Minneapolis, Minn. adv.

generously: "Yes, I'm certain I must have."

"I'm glad to hear you say that. I shouldn't like your stay with us to be clouded in any way."

"Then I'm sure you mean to extend your welcome to Nathaniel," Virginia responded, brightly.

"Oh," flatly, "yes, of course. But don't you think it will only make it harder for you to keep your purpose if you listen too often to his pleadings?"

"I'll have to take that risk," Virginia said firmly. "I couldn't stand not seeing him every day. I hope it will be agreeable to you and Clarissa to have him call, but I must tell you that I could not stay where it wasn't possible to be with Nathaniel."

"He's quite welcome," Dean returned softly.

A little later, after an awkward silence, Virginia suggested that they return home, and he acquiesced without protest.

There was no more talk of Nathaniel then. More of silence than talk of any kind, and when they reached the DeOans' home Virginia did not linger downstairs but ran swiftly to her room and lifted the telephone to put in a call for Nathaniel's number. She felt a great need to hear his voice, to assure herself that he actually was near, ready to come if she wanted him. And without knowing precisely why, she felt it there had been an attempt to draw them apart, to interfere with their seeing each other.

She became really agitated, waiting for the beloved, growly voiced to answer.

And then there came a lazy, "hello," that struck on Virginia's heart like a cat's paw on a butterfly.

POULTRY FLOCKS NEED MUCH CARE IN SUMMER MONTHS

SEND OUT WARNING ON ELIMINATION OF DRY MASH MIXTURE

Sufficient Protein Needed to Keep Birds in Condition for Fall Laying

Madison—(P)—A warning against elimination of the dry mash mixture from the summer ration of poultry flocks is voiced by the Wisconsin college of agriculture. Animal protein is essential, the warning says.

Although it may seem that the birds are foraging an adequate food supply during the summer, their ration is often incomplete, and is very frequently short in protein. Feeds rich in this material are not always grown on the farm, and as a direct result of the deficiency, egg production slumps and the birds are in poor condition for fall laying.

The regular summer culling may be started during July, the notice says. However, only birds known to be layers should be culled at this time.

Sodium fluoride, used at the rate of an ounce to a gallon of water, is recommended by the specialist for destroying parasites. This should be used on a warm day as a dip, and the birds should be completely immersed in the solution. Prevention of the pest by keeping the poultry house clean and by the regular use of dips is much more satisfactory than eradicating them once they have infested the flock.

DAIRY CATTLE SET PRODUCTION RECORD

May Tests Were Higher Than Any Previous Month in Present Year

Madison—Wisconsin dairy cattle, under test in the 166 Dairy Herd Improvement associations of the state, returned higher production records last month than at any time previous in the current year.

The butterfat production for all cows in test reached a new high average for 1928 with a yield per cow for the month of 28 pounds, being the average of all of the 64,833 cows reported during May. J. Prause, a member of the River Falls Dairy Herd Improvement association, of Pierce county, had the highest herd for the month, his 13 cows and registered Holsteins making a milk production of 1623 pounds, and of fat, 55 pounds even, which thus far breaks the record for any one herd during any month of 1928.

A. J. Cramer, supervisor of Wisconsin Dairy Herd Improvement associations, reports that the number of 40 pound cows also took a skyward jump, increasing over 2000 in one month, there being a total of 12,924 of these 40-pound cows qualifying in May. By "40-pound cow" is meant a cow that in the period of one month, under the supervision of a Dairy Herd Improvement association, yields a production of butterfat of 40 pounds or better.

There is always the keenest of competition between the 166 Wisconsin Dairy Herd Improvement associations each month for the honor of having the highest number of these 40-pound cows. Honors for the past month are shared between Leominster-Tilleda association of Shawano county, and The Sabina-Viola association, of Vernon county. The testers in charge of each of these associations report 182 forty pound cows.

A Barron-co association, at Rice Lake, was the highest association with the herds of its members averaging a fat production for the month of 37.5 pounds. As proof of the fact that this sort of test work is a good check on the productive ability of dairy cows, as well as its opposite, is the report issued by Cramer, that during May 836 cows in the state had been "found out" by the tester and the milk scales, and been sent on their way to the butcher's block.

TELLS ADVANTAGE OF DRAGGING SOYBEANS

Madison—(P)—The advantage of dragging the acres planted to soybeans once or twice between time of sowing and harvest, where it has been needed broadcast or in solid drilled rows, is urged by E. A. Moore, of the state college of agriculture.

CONRAD BECHER FARM NEAR GREENVILLE IS A PLACE OF BEAUTY

Thrifty Farmers Say Machinery Never Wears Out but Rusts Out

BY W. F. WINSEY

Greenville—One of the attractive groups of farm buildings of this vicinity is that of Conrad J. Becher, north of this village on Highway 78. The location of the group, a coat of clean white paint on each building, the arrangement of the buildings, the well kept farm yard and lawn, modern driveways and shade trees are some of the features that lend their charm to the Becher homestead and make it attractive. Not only does the farm yard with its group of buildings set off the farm and make it distinctive but the farm, with every indication of care and thrift, sets off the buildings.

These out buildings consist of a two story tool shed, a large barn with modern, basement stable, a milk house, chicken coop, hog house and shed. Since Mr. Becher took possession of the farm, he built the silo and tool shed and remodeled the other buildings. He built the tool shed two years ago with its concrete bridge leading to the upper story.

In the tool shed, Mr. Becher houses all of his farm tools when they are not in use. If he is a crank in any line, that line is the care of farm machinery. Each piece of farm machinery is used only a few days each year and for that reason, if no other, it will last a life time if it is properly housed when not in use. He believes that farm machinery does not wear out but rusts out. By housing his machinery he has eliminated his repair bills and the cost of new machinery. As an illustration of the length of life of farm machinery, Mr. Becher mentioned a hay loader in his tool shed that is as fit as ever after fifteen years of service.

On being asked from what source he got his idea of keeping his machinery under cover, his farm building painted, his farm yard neat and clean, and his fences in repair, Mr. Becher replied that he grew up with that idea.

Mr. Becher's farm consists of 80 acres. His chief farm industry is dairying with a herd of 40 grade Guernseys. In the herd are 22 cows, 16 of which he is now milking. He always keeps a high class pure bred bull. He delivers his milk to a cheese factory and returns with his skim milk which he feeds to calves. He raises all his huffer calves and has sold five springers the past year. Beside cattle, he usually has 40 hogs on hand.

Mr. Becher always tries to raise enough alfalfa and red clover hay for his cattle but occasionally his seedlings winterkill. In that case, the best he can do is to feed timothy hay. His pasture this season is a mixture of sweet clover, and 5 acres of red clover. Other feed will come from a 20 acre field of corn, and a 20 acre field of oats. On account of the requirements of his hogs, he is often forced to buy some grain and dairy feed for his cattle.

This year, Mr. Becher will build some fences on his farm and repair others. He also will finish painting his farm buildings and repair his milk house.

Cohrad J. Becher, a son of the late John Becher, was born on the homestead that he now owns and occupies. He was educated in St. Mary's school, Greenville, 1912, he married Virginia M. Krueger. Their children are Dorothy, Regina, Florence, Esther, Dilia, Gordon, and Ralph.

Mr. Becher rented the homestead for two years and at the end of that period bought it from his mother 15 years ago.

He was tested and that 91 cows made over 40 lbs. of fat while 26 made over 50 pounds of fat.

The Associations average pounds of fat is 39 and the high herd is owned by E. & M. Breitrick whose 20 cows averaged 544 pounds of milk and 41.8 pounds of fat with a 4.95 average test.

High cow is owned by E. & M. Breitrick, a cow Dolly produced 1,665 pounds of milk, 68.2 pounds of fat, 6.4 test.

The high cow, owned by E. and M. Breitrick, produced 1,665 pounds of milk and 68.2 pounds of fat with a 6.4 test.

Farmers Make Orchard And Chickens Pay Taxes

BY W. F. WINSEY

Kewaunee—After trying for a year or more to convince the farmers of Kewaunee county that either the farm flock of chickens or the farm orchard, if properly cared for would pay the taxes on the farm, R. H. Lathrop, county agent has induced two farmers to try paying their taxes from these neglected sources of income.

One of the first who consented to try and to heed suggestions from the county agent, selected his flock of chickens for the experiment. In the first six months he cleared $325.00 with a flock of 188 chickens. The only secret of his success was that he learned how to make his flock shell out and not to keep "boarders". The other farmer selected his orchard. It contained a total of 40 trees. As an ornament on the farm, the orchard had been doing well. But insofar as supplying the family with apples, it was a failure.

The first season after getting a little reasonable attention, the orchard produced enough apples for the use of the family and balance for the market that netted the owner $196.00.

The man who made his flock of chickens more than pay his taxes is

SPECIALIST INSPECTS FORESTS IN BROWN-CO

Green Bay—R. E. Vaughn, plant disease specialist, College of Agriculture, inspected trees and crops in Brown county, Wednesday, to find out whether any diseases or pests had made their appearance. About the injury that has been done to leaves of soft maple trees and other shade trees, Mr. Vaughn says, "Galls on soft maple trees are more unsightly than harmful. They are caused by stings of minute insects. The "bugs" lay their eggs inside the leaves where the young worms develop. They cannot be controlled by any spray because they are protected by the leaf tissue. There is no known method of control for this insect."

CHERRY PICKERS GET ON JOB TOO EARLY

Sturgeon Bay—Influenced by hearsay or wild rumors, a number of cherry pickers have already appeared on the scene in the Door-co orchards. As cherry picking will not begin before July 19, there is absolutely nothing for these early arrivals to do before that date," said Herman Ulisberger, manager of the Door County Fruit Growers' Union. Notices will be sent out stating the time when cherry picking is to begin. Between 6,000 and 7,000 outside cherry pickers will be needed to assist in the work this season. It will take about three weeks with a full force to finish the job.

CAN PLANT SOYBEANS AFTER HARVEST OF PEAS

Madison—(P)—The hay crop may be increased by planting soybeans immediately following the harvest of early maturing peas, according to E. D. Holsen, field crop specialist at the Wisconsin college of agriculture.

Soybeans make an excellent emergency hay crop, Mr. Holsen said, pointing out that there are hundreds of pea growers who are affected by the alfalfa and clover failures who can turn to soybeans as a considerable winter crop.

He said that the early pea crop is a very good source of nitrogen for the soil, and that the soybeans can be planted as early as the first of July.

Mr. Holsen said that the early pea crop is a very good source of nitrogen for the soil, and that the soybeans can be planted as early as the first of July.

He also stated that those who in the past have planted early peas and have not had good results should try soybeans as soon as the first of July.

The first of July is the best time to plant soybeans, he said, as the crop will be ready for harvest in the fall.

Fond du Lac 4, Green Bay 2.

A youngster who probably hasn't cast his first vote yet and who not so many months ago was playing with the kids in the sandlot games, put on an Appleton baseball uniform Wednesday and staged a little celebration of his own, which now is being shared by about 12 other members of the club. The youngster's name is Clarence Stoffel and he pitched such good ball for nearly seven innings that he enabled Appleton to win its first ball game of the 1928 season, 8 and 4. It's true that the youngster tickled

FONDY BEATS BAYS
Fond du Lac—Green Bay took a trimming here Wednesday morning 4 and 2 when L. Schramm, tossing for the home team, allowed the upstarts only 5 hits and struck out seven men. Fondy also garnered seven hits of Leeward who went the entire route and struck out 10 men. Fond du Lac scored three runs in the fourth inning on three hits and after three hits in the third inning had netted one run.

three Fall players in the ribs to get him off in trouble a couple times, and that he had to be relieved in the seventh by Ritten, but who more can be expected when two singles, a hit batter and a wild toss at first permitted Neenah-Menasha to count two runs until they tied under the heat of the sun, Stoffel was invincible. And all this with a two day rest, for Sunday he pitched a one game against Oneida in the Four-Country League.

Ritten also deserves a lot of credit for being able to go into the box and put down an uprising as he did Wednesday and last Sunday. A man was on second and third when he took up the burden and set the fans wild by waiting the first batter to oppose him. That practice, however, is lucky for Ritten, for the next man fled out and the third struck out. Ritten also walked the first man to face him Sunday and then retired the side with no damage.

Manager Brautigan offered another changed lineup for the several hundred Appleton fans who took the trip to Menasha to see the game. He sent Crowe to short and watched the game from the bench, put Ashman back of the log and Murphy in right field, and sent Radke to his old post at first. The changes all worked perfectly and the club left the first pitch to the "big" looking like the w. k. million dollars. Ashman's pepper back of the log kept the infield snappd up while Murphy roamed the gardens with ease and was big threat with his war club.

The Brautigan line went to work immediately after the opening gong and for the first time in many weeks took the lead. Schultz, first up took a stroll but was forced at second by Crowe. Tormow also stroled and Crowe scored on Van Wyk's single to center. Tormow was caught between second and third when he overran the key stone sack and couldn't get back because Van had sneaked up to it.

Omar popped a fly to Ashman when he hit the ball pitched to open Menasha's half the initial inning. Beach and Lewandowski singled, Stoffel tickled Powell in the ribs to load the bases and it looked as though Appleton would again fall victim of the first inning. G. Weisgerber then hit one to Tormow which touched second to force Powell and attempted a heave to first, the ball going wild. Beach had scored on the hit and Lewandowski trotted in on the overthrow.

The Pail lead was shortlived for in the first of the third stanza a single by Crowe and successive doubles by Van Wyk, Murphy and Ashman netted Appleton three runs. A single, stolen base and another single permitted Neenah-Menasha to count one in the fifth but Brautigan's nine came back in the sixth to score twice with two walks, a stolen base and Murphy's wallop to center. Murphy's out in the seventh stood left one of Powell's singles get away with him. Omar scored for Menasha when he got a life on Crowe's bomb toss of his grounder and went to second on the overthrow. Stoffel then hit Beach to put two on the tags and Omar scored and Beach drew up at third on Lewandowski's double.

That ended Stoffel's work and Ritten was called to toss his southpaw slants at the Pails. He promptly walked the first man to face him but forced the next to fly out and then struck out Herzog to end the inning. Janoski was on the mound when Menasha took the field and sailed through the last two frames with ease.

HIGH PRAISE FOR BENTON
Larry Benton is termed by many baseball experts as the "best and smartest" pitcher McGraw has had since the "days of Matty."

CALIFORNIA GIRL WINS TRACK HONOR
Victor in Three Events of Women's National Olympic Tryout

Newark, N. J.—(AP)—Elita Cartwright of the Northern California Athletic club Thursday was acclaimed as the country's best girl track athlete. Competing in the women's national championships and the tryouts to select the first women's Olympic team ever to represent the United States, she entered three events, all that the regulations allowed and won all of them.

She qualified for the Olympic team by winning the 100-meter tryout events and captured national championships in the 50-yard dash and broad jump. Her feats helped her team roll up the total of 32 points to capture first place in the team event. The Pasadena, Calif. A. C. took second place, with 17 points and the Boston Women's Swimming association was third with eight.

In addition to Miss Cartwright, eighteen girls were selected for the Olympic team. The selections are: 100-Meters—Elita Cartwright, Northern California A. C.; Elizabeth Robinson, Illinois Women's A. C.; Anna Vranas, Pasadena A. C.; Olive Hazenius, Boston Swimming Association; Edna Savers, Brooklyn and Mary T. Washburn, Jessie Cross and Loretta McNeil, all of the Millrose A. A., New York.

BREWERS WIN TWICE FROM KANSAS CITY
Wingard and Ballou, Although Wild, Turn in 6 and 1 Victories

Chicago—(AP)—Toledo and Milwaukee celebrated the fourth with double victories over their opponents in the American association pennant race. Louisville was host to Indianapolis with a divided bill. Milwaukee's after dropping a game to St. Paul in the morning, returned home and trounced the Saints in the afternoon.

The Mud Hens knocked off the Senators 5 to 2 in the morning game and then came back in the afternoon to win a 6 to 5 over Columbus. Scott's fire pitching and some timely hitting turned the trick in the forenoon. Toledo came from behind in the afternoon to win out.

The Brewers in putting across their twin killing over the Kansas City Blues turned "demoralized" scores of 6 to 1, respectively in each game. Classy pitching by Wingard and Ballou coupled with timely hitting against Ward and Nelson, both of whom were wild, were factors in Milwaukee's brace of victories.

Errors on the part of the Colonels enabled the Indians to win the first game 7 to 3, but the Colonels came back strong in the second game and after battling eleven innings, nosed out a 5 to 3 win.

St. Paul went over to Minneapolis in the forenoon and whipped the Millers 4 to 2, but the tables were turned against them when they went over to Minneapolis they took the short end of a 11 to 6 count.

Oney Johnston post of the American Legion's entry in the national baseball tournament being conducted for Junior boys all over the country. The boys are the pick of junior ball players in the city having been selected during tournament held here a few weeks ago.

Uniforms for the team and financial assistance has been given by the league, Appleton merchants and several other interested persons. The move throughout the country is being supported by the national baseball leagues which appropriated $50,000 to carry on the meet.

The Appleton team won its first game Tuesday evening from Seymour, 33 and 6, and will play the second at 5 o'clock Friday evening when they meet Green Bay here. A win over the Bays practically clinches the district meet and will enable the boys to take part in a state meet to be held soon. The team has played several preliminary games, losing to Oshkosh and winning from Menasha.

SECOND GUESSES

With the right kind of coaching and a little more experience Stoffel looks as though he will round into a real pitcher. He appeared to have something on the ball and showed plenty of grit in the first inning when his infield got him into a bit of trouble.

The youngster was a bit wild at times and picked three Neenah-Menasha players in the ribs. The incidents caused him trouble but he stuck to his knitting even though Lewandowski tried to get his goat by shouting a loud protest every time a batter was nicked.

The game was supposed to be part of a Neenah-Menasha July celebration but apparently all the natives were celebrating elsewhere. Many of the fans who attended the fracas turned out to be from Appleton.

Crowe, the pitcher, outfielder, infielder on the Appleton team turned up at about Sunday and played a good game. He was guilty of one bad toss but that happens on the best of teams. Radke was back at first and though he showed the results of his layoff handled the nut satisfactorily.

Both teams had three stolen bases to their credit. Beach, Lewandowski, and G. Weisgerber pilfered sacks on Ashman, the latter two stealing third by close squeaks. Cully Schultz stole two for Appleton and Al Gosha got away with another.

Sonny Tormow made a great catch of G. Weisgerber's fly over second in the third inning getting the ball over his left shoulder while running. Cully Schultz also made a nice play on Lewandowski in the ninth after bobbing the grounder and then getting his made at first.

Slomski hit one a mile a minute at Stoffel in the seventh, the youngster deflecting the ball with his glove and Tormow rushing to his left to get the ball and toss out the runner at first.

The pebble that figured so famously in a world series game a few years ago caused G. Weisgerber at bit of embarrassment in the fifth inning. Priebe hit a grounder to him and about the time he was ready to take the hop the ball bounded over his head. The hit was of the fishy variety but "Cave" was cheated out of a real hit later in the game when Beach made a beautiful catch of a grounder and tossed him out at first.

Little Chance Of U. S. Taking Davis Cup In 1928

New York—(AP)—It may be a trifle early to read the Americans out of the Davis cup rivalry for 1928 but Big Bill Tilden's defeat by Rene Lacoste in the Wimbledon semi-finals in the first big French-American test of the season, Wednesday, has cast a shadow over the prospect that the historic tennis trophy will remain on a Parisian shelf.

There isn't much surprise here. The cold light of competition, the dominant voice of Lacoste and Henri Cochet is beginning to dissipate American optimism and restore the feeling that exists in the melancholy shades of Germantown last September, when a fond farewell was bade to the Davis cup in the expectation that it would not be back for some time to come.

The surprise at Wimbledon, as a matter of fact, is that Tilden, in his first tournament abroad, was able to force Lacoste to five sets and lose only after an excellent opportunity to beat the nimble Rene in straight sets. Before he was abroad Big Bill was

DAZZY VANCE ENDS NEW YORK GIANTS' WINNING STREAK

Young Ed Walsh Knocked Out of Box in First Appearance for White Sox

A theory exists, that the teams in the lead on July 4 also will be on top in late September or early October at close of the major league pennant campaigns. If this were 100 per cent true, the Yankees and the Cardinals could save much trouble for all concerned by starting the world series immediately, but the theory arouses speculation in some quarters—chiefly in the National League.

John J. McGraw, of the Giants is in accord with any move designed to limit the Cardinals to a purely literary interest in the next world series.

The Giants closed out their intra-sectional campaign at the Polo grounds Wednesday by dividing a double header with Brooklyn.

Dazzy Vance snapped a Giant streak at eight straight by rolling the home entry, 8 to 3, in the opener, but Larry Benton came back in the second clash to hang up his fourteenth victory and his seventeenth complete game in sixteen starts. The score was 5 to 2.

The event break cost the Giants no ground as the Cardinals and the Cubs divided two wild games. The Cards won by 11 to 6 and the Cubs by 16 to 9.

Hops flamed anew in Cincinnati as the Reds plunged the Pirates further into the depths by taking morning and afternoon decisions at Forbes field, 6 to 0 and 11 to 3. The Braves dropped another to the Phils, 10 to 6, but ran prevented further carnage.

In the American league campaign to see whether the Yankees can win 117 games and so beat the record of the 1906 Cubs, the Senators held the champions to an even break. The Senators, furthermore, held the Huguenots even in the series of four, which has not been done by every team the Yankees have met.

The Athletics turned back the Red Sox 5 to 4, and 11 to 3. The Mackmen so shaved a full game from the lead of the champions.

Detroit and Cleveland divided their holiday bill, as did the Browns and the White Sox. The Chicago celebration was notable chiefly for the debut of Ed Walsh, Jr., late of Notre Dame. Young Ed's first stride in the shoes of his famous father was an unsuccessful one, but he showed he has the pitching goods. The Browns bunched hits on him for five runs in the fourth, and he was retired to await a better day.

NEVER MAKES A BET
Although he thinks his boys will win every race they enter, James J. Conner, who runs the Navy crew, refuses to bet no matter how sure he seems victory. He's a deacon in the church.

HOLD CONTESTS AT GOLF COURSES JULY 4

Driving Match Butte des Morts; Appleton Beats Neenah at Riverview

Although both Butte des Morts and Riverview golf courses were crowded with golfers Wednesday few chose to enter tournaments being held. A driving contest was held at Butte des Morts and a team match between Neenah and Appleton members held at Riverview.

In the latter event the Appleton squad captained by Frank Young copied from Neenah captained by Ted Gilbert, 24 and 14. Low net prize winners on the Appleton team were Dan Steinberg, Jr., Fred Rector and F. Young and Dr. L. H. Moore. The latter two tied for third place. Neenah winners were Frank Murphy, Appleton who played with the losers, Ted Gilbert and C. E. Clark.

Paul Wesco and J. J. Plank were tied for honors in the driving contest with 220 yards. Second place went to Neil Spoor and Bob Walters with 215 yards. About 30 players took part in the contest.

Both clubs have contests slated for Saturday. At Riverview a medal play match with handicaps will be held, prizes going to the three winners while at Butte des Morts the initial tournament of the year will get underway. The heavy rains of the last few days and warm weather following have helped to put both courses in the best condition. Roughs and fairways have been cut and the greens are in excellent shape.

Appleton Juniors Win First District Game By Defeating Seymour

Squad Meets Green Bay Here Friday Afternoon in Second Battle for Sectional Crown

Appleton Juniors, Oney Johnston post of the American Legion entry in the national junior baseball contest, staged a marathon base running contest in their first official district game in Brandt park Tuesday evening. When all runners had been accounted for the score stood 33 to 6 in favor of the Appleton team. Seymour was the opponent.

No less than a half dozen records of some kind were established in the game. Appleton players went to bat 56 official times and Seymour's nine stepped to the plate 44 times. Appleton got 21 hits and Seymour 12 while 11 errors were chalked against the upstarts and seven against Appleton.

A youngster answering to the name of Priebe did the hurrying for Appleton and pitched a good game after the second inning. In the first two stanzas all Seymours runs were scored but after that Priebe settled down and allowed but six singles. Haver and Segal tossed the ball for Seymour the former allowing nine hits, the latter 12.

Appleton landed on Haver both feet front in the first inning and eight hits and two walks produced four runs. Seymour had counted four runs on four hits in their half the game so the advantage Appleton had was needed. In the Seymour half the second a hit and four errors counted two runs but Appleton stepped out and got three on a walk, two errors and a hit.

Both teams acted respectable in the third inning which marked the beginning of a series of runless innings for Seymour. Appleton continued pelting the ball hard, however, getting six runs on three hits, two walks and an error. The sixth inning was scoreless but the Appleton nine made six hits and three errors equal eight runs. Another eight runs were scored by the home team, three coming in the seventh inning and five in the eighth.

Friday afternoon, Green Bay will furnish the opposition and if Eddie Stenard, coach, his pupils through the game to victory, the remainder of the tournament will not be hard. The game will begin at 8 o'clock and is the second of the eight game series to be played on July 15.

Appleton chances for uninterrupted victories took a tumble Tuesday afternoon, however, when Marrell, one of the team's pitchers showed up with his arm in a sling. He injured the member sliding into second base while playing against Menasha a few days ago. Whether he will get into any more games is a problem.

For score for Tuesday's game:

Marty Lamers Scores Only
Run for Kim-Little Chute
on Walk and Three Errors

Kimberly — The Kimberly-Little Chute basketball aggregation lost its second league game at Little Chute Wednesday morning when Kaukauna took them into camp 2 to 1.

Abbott pitched a no-hit game. The strong Kimberly batters were unable to do anything to the Kau hurler getting only pop flies and grounders.

Kaukauna pounded Pocan for seven hits in the first six innings when he retired with a sore arm. Vander Loop finished the game and allowed but one hit, a double by Abbott.

The Electric City scored its first run in the second inning when Ray Smith got singled went to second on a fielder's choice and scored on Phillips' single. Wenzel scored the other run when he singled, stole second and scored on a single. In going to second he was played on and Umpire Casey Jansen called him safe, bringing a loud protest from Marty Lamers and Kimberly fans.

The Papermakers scored their lone tally in the eighth inning when Marty Lamers got a pass to first and scored when the next three men up grounded to the infield and were safe on errors, the Kaw shortstop having two and the second baseman one.

MRS. STILLMAN MAY FLY, TOO

"Don't you worry, now. I've had lots of court experience, and everything will come out all right," declared Mrs. James A. Stillman. So despite the court injunction that held Miss Thae Rasasche from her Atlantic flight both she and Mrs. Stillman, right, were smiling when the picture at the top was snapped. As the German aviator and her new backer inspected their plane at Curtis Field, Long Island, there was speculation as to whether the impulsive Mrs. Stillman intends to be a passenger when the North Star, pictured below, finally leaves for Europe.

RAY SCHALK QUITS AS CHI SOX LEADER

Russell "Lena" Blackburne
Manages Team as it Leaves for East

Chicago — (P) — As the Chicago White Sox sped eastward Thursday, Russell "Lena" Blackburne, Sox coach since 1926, stepped into his new post as manager of the club, succeeding the veteran Raymond H. "Cracker" Schalk, whose resignation was the surprise of the Fourth of July holiday at Comiskey park.

Schalk's resignation was effective immediately after the holiday double header. He remained at home Monday as his teammates for the last 16 years headed into their second eastern trip.

Immediately after receiving Schalk's letter of resignation, President Charles A. Comiskey announced the appointment of Blackburne as the "Cracker's" successor.

Schalk, recognized as one of the greatest ball players who ever wore the mask, said in his letter of resignation that he was "stepping out as manager in the hopes it will be helpful to the club."

"The team has been going bad, the results have not been satisfactory; so I step out," was the way he put it. "Cracker" came to the White Sox at the age of 19, in 1912 when he was purchased from Milwaukee.

In his letter to Comiskey, the "Cracker" said his "connection with baseball remains in the balance," but he hoped he would not lose his identity with the game "for some years to come." Schalk remains on the club

SHOW PATRIOTISM AT ROTARIANS' MEETING

Prefacing his reading with a few remarks in which he expressed his high estimation, affection and esteem for the pioneers who created it, Frank J. Harwood, well-known Appleton businessman read the Declaration of Independence at the regular Tuesday noon luncheon of the Rotary club, held at the Hotel Northern. He concluded his speech with a reading of the poem, "Independence Day July 4, 1776."

Patriotic songs were sung by the members of the club.

STATE GETS SHARE OF TWO LARGE ESTATES

Madison—(P)—the state of Wisconsin has collected approximately $200,000 as its share in the $2,353,000 estate of the late Dr. Joseph Schneider. That amount represents the inheritance tax levied by the state tax commission.

Another large amount is expected in September when the Charles F. Fisher of Milwaukee is settled. His estate is expected to aggregate between $2,000,000 and $4,000,000.

A man's bathing suit is a personal proposition—at least it should be. You should never wear a "rented" bathing suit that "goodness-knows-who-wore-it" just before you.

For health's sake, own your own—and for economy's sake, own a good one.

The difference between one that shrinks and one that we can guarantee will not is so little in comparison to owning one that has shrunk so you cannot use it, or one you bought extremely large, expecting it to shrink and found it grew even larger.

TRAFFIC COPS KEPT BUSY KEEPING CARS MOVING YESTERDAY

Few Accidents in Spite of Tremendous Movement of Automobiles

Although no serious traffic accidents occurred in Appleton or vicinity on Wednesday, officers and motorists declare that the fine weather brought out a record number of automobiles.

While there was no official celebration in this city a large number of people attended the picnic at Erb's park and several officers were required to direct traffic in the vicinity of the park.

Traffic on the important trunk highways through Appleton was heavier than usual on July 4, one traffic officer said. Many automobiles loaded with passengers were on their way to the lakes in this vicinity to spend the day, while others were on their way to nearby towns and villages where Independence day celebrations were being held.

Five traffic officers were on duty at Little Chute Wednesday handling traffic on Highway 41 which passes through the heart of the village. Hundreds of cars, some on their way through the village and others attracted by the celebration there, tied up traffic Wednesday morning just after the parade had passed.

At Dale, where another celebration was held, Underheriff Otto Wikert, and County Motorcycle Officer Charles Steidl were on duty Wednesday night directing traffic through the village where there was considerable congestion.

Fireworks at the celebration at Neenah-Menasha Wednesday attracted thousands of people and the cars there were directed by a group of officers.

PRAYER BOOK REVISION BEFORE CHURCH COUNCIL

Revised—(P)—Revision of the prayer book, particularly the question of removing the Thirty-Nine Articles of Religion from the book, came before the tenth annual conference for Episcopal church workers of the middle west here Thursday.

A dispute over removing the articles was predicted for the General convention of the church, in Washington this fall.

Leading the discussion, Dr. Frank E. Wilson of Eau Claire, Wis., termed the Thirty-Nine Articles an artificially manufactured issue, adding that "they are worn out garments" for the American church.

"An artificially manufactured issue bids fair to engage the attention of the Episcopal church at its general convention this fall," said Dr. Wilson. "This issue has been securely tied to the Thirty-Nine Articles of Religion which most churchmen had completely forgotten. They are a series of statements promulgated 400 years ago concerning certain disputed issues of that day in England, but which are so worn out garments for the American Church today."

"As historical relics, the Articles of Religion are important and ought to be preserved. As fit matter to be bound up in a modern prayer book, they are a total loss. At the last convention, a resolution was introduced to remove them, to a place of security other than the Prayer Book. It was a sane, reasonable proposition, overwhelmingly adopted with very little discussion."

"Now a group of alarmists are endeavoring to arouse fears that this is an insidious attack on the historical position of the church. As a matter of fact, those in favor of removing the Articles care very little whether they are kept in or not, except as a matter of property as regards a Book of Worship. They are likely to vote to keep the Articles in the Book and then ask the alarmists what they propose to do with them."

CALL FOR MORE BIDS ON SANITARIUM ADDITION

Following a conference with the trustees of the Riverview sanatorium and the county board building and grounds committee, which have charge of the construction of the $100,000 addition to be built at the institution this summer, John E. Hantschel, county clerk, has issued a request for separate bids on electric wiring, heating and plumbing for the new structure. It had first been planned to have blanket bids only which would cover the cost of all of this work. All bids must be in the hands of Mr. Hantschel on July 9, when a joint meeting of the two groups will be held. Bids will be opened and if they are found satisfactory the contract probably will be let.

Already 12 contractors have copies of the plans and are preparing to bid on the job, Mr. Hantschel said. Mr. Hantschel has sent for six additional copies of the plans as several more contractors have asked for them.

Major A. J. McKay of La Salle, Ill., was a guest of Dr. D. J. O'Connor, 116 N. Green Bay, Wednesday.

"WIFE'S RELATIONS" IS CLEVER COMEDY

Columbia has produced another winner in "The Wife's Relations," a hilarious comedy of the complications of married life. The plot revolves around a young inventor and his marriage to a beautiful heiress, who has run away from home and become an elevator operator in order to avoid a union with a man who is disgusted to her. Into the action are introduced a cross-eyed cook, a penniless actor, an unknown author and an artist of uncertain merit. They all struggle along together on the estate of the heiress's former sweetheart. The wife's parents visit their son-in-law and are received in great style by the versatile quarrelsome play chauffer, ladies' maid, footman, butler and foot. They are making a strong impression when the former lover returns and then the fun begins.

Shirley Mason gives an excellent portrayal of a wayward girl, who always gets her own way. Gaston Glass makes an ideal husband and struggling inventor. Ben Turpin, holds the center of the stage with his antics and Arthur Hays Sulzberger, as a mad scientist, is a good foil for his impersonation as a mad.

The production, adapted from a story by Stephen Cooper, was made under the direction of Maurice Marshall. Some beautiful scenic backgrounds, including shots of Palm Beach and winter scenes, supposedly at Lake Placid, are introduced for atmosphere. Several comedy thrills and chase worked from a new and clever angle add to the mirth producing incidents with which this picture is filled. You'll like "The Wife's Relations" which is being shown at the Elute Theatre today and Friday.

"EASY COME, EASY GO" Ideas on how not to get rid of money are sometimes as valuable as those on how to accumulate money. Richard Dix in his latest farce comedy, "Easy Come, Easy Go," which will show at Fischers Appleton theatre Friday, Saturday and Sunday manages to hold on to a great deal of money even when he doesn't wish to. The picture is considered by movie picture producers to be the funniest that Dix has thus far made. The story revolves around a young man who is almost too honest to live. Unknowingly he assists a crook in robbing a bank, thereby establishing himself as an accomplice. It isn't comfortable for the crooks when the detective starts on their trail. Dix tries to return the money but people think he is crazy. The situations are smart, fast moving and very funny, early reviewers reported.

"Easy Come, Easy Go" was written by Owen Davis and produced on the legitimate stage where it was very popular. The pictureization was directed by Frank Tuttle who also directed Dix in "The Lucky Devil".

In the supporting cast are Nancy Carroll, the Rosemary of the picture, produced by Paramount of Anne Nichols "Abie's Irish Rose," Charles Sellen, who played with Dix in "The Lucky Devil," Arnold Kent, Frank Currier, Christian J. Frank, Joseph J. Frenz and Guy Oliver.

Dix in his last two pictures and in several preceding ones has turned definitely to farce comedy and according to reports from Hollywood, he likes this type of picture. "Knock-out Reilly," "The Lucky Devil," "Sporting Goods" and "Easy Come, Easy Go" are examples of what Dix is doing in this type of picture. When he completed work in "Sporting Goods" he selected "Easy Come, Easy Go" as a vehicle which fully satisfied his plans.

PSYCHOLOGY TAUGHT TO CAR CONDUCTORS

Berlin —(AP)—Berlin's 7,000 street car conductors are being taught psychology.
Youngsters fresh in the service, middle aged men and graybeards assemble in evening classes and are told how to handle their passengers in the approved manner.
"Be courteous always be suave and diplomatic at times don't forget that passengers are human beings and not mere parcels of freight," the lesson runs.
"Remember your passengers may be nervous, they may be tired, they may have just had a bad night or their morning coffee was cold." There are times when it is expedient not to react, to see or to answer back, the lecturer warns.
"Never mind if you think the passenger times a person in politeness. It is not to be used common sense or discretion."
Nurses of "ladies' maids" women passengers are carefully explained in the men. A "ladies' maid" may pass during a lecture and the lecturer says, "These ladies are made with an understanding of the psychology of the woman."

structor says. "Do not molest your passengers with your tongue when handling out tickets."

ITALY MAKES MANY FILMS
In its campaign of education through motion pictures Italy made and distributed 5,895 copies of films at home and abroad last year. Although the traveling motion picture propaganda service was not organized until June, 1927, by October more than 2,400 exhibitions had been given in nearly 700 communes. Instructional and scientific films were prepared under direction of a special commission. Agricultural films on central and southern Italy will be completed this year, following the filming of rural educational films of many kinds last year. A series of 24 releases illustrating deep-sea life has been made, and 51 military, naval and aviation films were prepared. More than 200 films covering important meetings, celebrations and Fascist Party gatherings are among the "news" films.

Leafy branches swaying, and shadowing a broad green lawn—cool woodland melodies—living waters lit with sunshine—the composer of the VALSE DE CONCERT must have created this lovely waltz in such a setting. It is vital with irresistible rhythm colorful as Summer itself in its wonderful variety—yet cool, soothing, refreshing as an evening breeze. A great orchestra, under a great conductor, may have its lighter moments, and this is one of them. Yet further proof lies in the Victor Concert Orchestra's latest record—two delightful old favorites in colorful new settings. Ideal music for summer nights—or for any moment when you long for stimulating, yet soothing music. And each selection is satisfyingly long.

Book Of Knowledge

Baking Fires

If you were to be cast on a deserted island without matches, would you be able to kindle a fire? It is a rather laborious process, but often proves to be useful knowledge. Two primitive ways are pictured above. To the left the man is rubbing dry sticks of wood together. To the right a stick is being twirled against a dry surface. The heat sets light to dry grass or moss.

The heat required can be generated more quickly if you have a piece of string, in the manner shown above, causing the stick to revolve more rapidly.

Another method is to cut a slot in a piece of dry wood and rub another piece of wood through the slot. Yet another way is the magnifying glass.

One of the common ways of striking a fire that the Indians used to use was the striking of a piece of metallic stone against a flint, causing an electrical spark. The sparks can be caught on a heap of dry moss or dry leaves and fanned into a blaze. The tinder box, containing dry, inflammable material, is another method. (Next: A Window Box)

KAUKAUNA TRIPS UP LEAGUE LEADERS IN THRILLING 2-1 GAME

Abbott Gets Air-tight Support from His Kaukauna Fields in Wednesday Game

Kaukauna—Playing top-notch baseball and bunting hits when they were needed the Kaw baseball nine Wednesday morning toppled the league leading Kimberly-Little Chute team from its winning streak and left them at the short end of a 2 to 1 score at the end of nine innings of some of the fastest ball ever seen in the league.

The game was part of the dedication of the new baseball field at Little Chute and the loss marred Little Chute's Fourth of July celebration. More than 1,200 fans, the largest ever at a game at Little Chute, saw the exhibition.

Abbott, pitching superb ball for the Kaw, held the Chute to only two hits while his teammates succeeded in gathering eight. Pocan, the Little Chute pitcher, weakened in the sixth inning and Vanderloep was sent in to finish the game.

Last week it was Les Smith who put the Kaw team in the win column while this week it was Les' brother, Ray, Kaw shortstop, who knocked out the Kaw runs in the sixth inning and scored the other himself in the second inning.

Pocan, Chute pitcher, started strong by fanning the first three Kaw batters. But in the next inning R. Smith got on bases and then scored on Phillips' single. Both sides were scoreless thereafter until the sixth inning when Wenzel got on base and scored on R. Smith's hit. The top leaders scored their only marker in the eighth inning when M. Lamers, who walked, scored on a hit by Schell.

In the eighth inning things looked dark off a short time when the Chute got three men on bases but only succeeded in getting one run. Abbott's "samurai" gave him a slight support. Abbott walked M. Lamers with one down, Lemmers was thrown out at first, Harlies went to first on R. Smith's wild throw and Kotol got to first on Gerz' error. With two down Schell got a single and Lamers scored, but the inning ended when Len Smith flied out. Neither side scored in the ninth, and the game ended with Kaukauna on the long end of a 2 to 1 score.

Next Sunday Kaukauna will play Fond du Lac at 2:30 in the afternoon at the Kaukauna ball park.

ALDERMEN BUY 1,000 FEET OF FIRE HOSE

Buy Two Types of Hose so Fire Department Can Make Experiment

Kaukauna — After discussing the merits of seven different kinds of fire hose and listening to arguments of salesmen of each kind of hose the common council at a meeting in the council chambers Tuesday evening decided to purchase 100 feet of hose from the New York Belt company at $1.35 per foot and 300 feet of hose from the Corus Conveyor company at $1.12 per foot.

The committee allowed routine bills and then went into the committee of the whole where the seven salesmen given an opportunity to discuss their products. A group of aldermen wanted to purchase 1,000 feet of New York hose which the department has been using for the past 20 years and which was recommended by the fire and water committee and Fire Chief Albert Lockow and another group favored the purchase of a quantity of another kind of hose in order that the department might learn whether another type was as good as the hose they are using now.

"I don't believe we should spend money to experiment with one type of hose, even though it costs a little less, when we have been using one kind of hose for so many years and know it to be good quality," Alderman Wierman declared. "We should not be chicken hearted in these matters."

Alderman Landerman objected to being called chicken-hearted and he declared he believed that other salesmen also should be given a chance and that he thought there should be a certain amount of the cheaper hose purchased so that the department in the future would know which was the best. Alderman Ben Faust agreed with Landerman and Alderman Smith moved to purchase 700 feet of New York Belt company hose and 300 feet of Corus Conveyor belt company hose and the motion was carried unanimously.

Alderman T. W. Lindstrom and Alderman Earnest Landerman were named members of the board of review which is to hold its first meeting this week.

At some corners special provisions have been made to fit the situation there.
